

COLUMBIA FOILSMEN WIN.

Defeat Yale and Penn for Intercollegiate Title.

Columbia won the intercollegiate fencing championship last night at the Blue and White Gymnasium, capturing thirteen bouts. Yale was second with eight bouts to its credit and Pennsylvania finished in third place, winning five bouts. Horcasitas of Columbia was the foremost performer of the tourney, taking the individual championship of the Intercollegiate League by winning six bouts.

The New York Times

Published: March 24, 1918

Copyright © The New York Times