

BENNETT OF NAVY LOSES EPEE TITLE

Put Out of Individual Race as College Fencing Finals Get
Under Way at the Astor.

TWO TEAMS TIED IN FOILS

Cornell and Army Each Have Three
Victories and No Defeats—Yale
Shows Way With Sabre.

Intercollegiate fencing championships with three weapons got under way at the Hotel Astor yesterday. One defending titleholder was eliminated, for Rawson Bennett, Navy's ace with the épée and winner in that division last year, failed to perform in championship fashion and passed out of the picture with five victories and six defeats.

Sabre and épée bouts were held yesterday on three strips in the Belvedere Room and the few remaining matches, which will decide the individual and team winners in each weapon, will be held tonight. The foils bouts started last night and will be concluded with tonight's matches.

The teams that competed yesterday came through the semi-final rounds that were held in three divisions, Northern, Central and Southern, last month.

Cornell Beats Yale.

In spite of Captain Dernel Every's three victories in the foils last night against Cornell, the Elis were defeated, 5-4, and the Ithacans went into a tie for the lead with the Army, with three victories and no defeats. Cornell defeated Penn in short order, 5-0, while Army beat Penn, Columbia and Navy.

The Army-Columbia match was the feature of the evening. After the Cadets went into a 4-0 lead, the Blue and White rallied to tie the count. Frank Dohs, a plebe, gave the Cadets victory by defeating Cautino, 5-3, in the final bout. Cornell defeated Columbia, 5-4, in the last match of the night.

Every is leading the field for the individual foils title as a result of going through last night's bouts undefeated and keeping his record for the season unmarred. Previous to last night he had won twenty-six bouts in dual matches and the semi-finals held at Columbia last month. Last night he won eleven bouts.

Yale Leads With Sabre.

Yale is the defending team in all three divisions, but it failed to qualify in the semi-finals for the épée title. However, at the close of yesterday's bouts with the sabre, the Elis were out in front with two matches won, none lost and one tied. Columbia was next with two won, one lost and one tie. Hamilton and the Navy failed to win a match, but the former tied four times and the Midshipmen were deadlocked three times in as many tries.

After tying with Hamilton at 2 all, Yale whitewashed Columbia and Syracuse, Nussbaum and Solomon showing good form in all bouts. As a result of their work with the sabre, the Eli fencers stand a good chance of winning the individual championship with that weapon. Nussbaum won all six of his bouts, while Solomon won four and lost two. Cohn of Columbia is next with five victories in three setbacks.

When the épée teams of Harvard and the Army clash today, the title will hang in the balance. Navy and Penn lead at present with three victories, one defeat and one tie. Army has won two and tied two matches, while Harvard has won one, lost two and tied one. If the Cadets beat Harvard, they will win the title.

Sands Ahead With Epee.

Army also has a good opportunity to take the individual crown as F. W. Sands is leading with seven victories and one defeat. Leslie of Penn has completed his bouts and his standing is eight victories and three defeats.

Bennett, defending champion with the épée, broke even in his matches with M. I. T., winning from Harris and losing to Siller. Against Harvard, he won both matches, but lost another bout against the Army. In this match he won from Hinrichs, but lost to Sands. He won two matches against Hamilton, dropped a bout to Clarke of Penn, but defeated Leslie.

Poldino won seven matches and lost three in the individual competition, while Jaekel captured seven and lost four.
