

YALE AND THE ARMY WIN FENCING TITLES

Team Sabre and Two Individual Crowns to Elis, Epee and 3-Weapon for Cadets.

CORNELL VICTOR IN FOILS

Captures Its First Championship in 15 Years, but Every of Yale Annexes the Individual Laurels.

The intercollegiate fencing championships ended at the Hotel Astor last night with three teams sharing in the division of titles. The Army fencers captured team and individual epee and also three-weapon honors, Yale won the team sabre crown and individual championships with both sabre and foils, and Cornell made off with the team foils laurels.

Captain Dernel Every of Athens, N. Y., won individual honors in the foils for Yale and Robert Nussbaum of Macon, Ga., with the sabre for Yale, which was the team champion with all three weapons a year ago. The individual epee title was won by Frank Sands of Dayton, Ohio, Army star.

Cornell made a clean sweep with the foils, defeating the Army, Yale, Columbia, the Navy and Penn during the course of the two days of fencing. It is the first time that a Cornell team has won the championship in any division in the fifteen years that the championships have been held and the Ithacans will receive the Iron Man Trophy donated by Colonel Robert Means Thompson.

Cornell and the Army went on the first strip in the final match of the afternoon. A victory for the cadets would have resulted in a tie between the two, but Cornell finally came through to a 5-to-4 victory in the best match of the entire championships.
With the match tied at 4 all, Good of Cornell defeated Zahm, 5 to 3, to give the Ithacans the match and the championship.

First Defeat for Every.

On his way to win the individual foils title Every met his first defeat of the season when Hugo Alessandroni of Columbia beat the Eli captain, 5 to 4. Every started well and gained a three-point lead on his opponent, but Alessandroni tied the count at 3 all. The number of touches then became 4 each and the Blue and White fencer waited for an opening and won the bout on a clear touch.

Every, who was runner-up with the foils last year, and Alessandroni were the only left-handed fencers in the foils division and the Yale man encountered some difficulty in solving an attack from the port side. Chardon of Cornell beat Cetrullo of Dartmouth in the fence-off for second place after each had won nine and lost two.

The Army had gained the lead in the first day's fencing in the quest for the epee team championship and yesterday it defeated Harvard, 3 to 1, winning the crown with a record of three victories and two ties for a total of four points. The Navy and Pennsylvania were deadlocked for second place with 3½ points.

Epee Crown to Sands.

Frank Sands of the Army won the individual epee championship, replacing Rawson Bennett of Annapolis, who finished far down the list with five victories and six defeats. Sands won when he defeated Cohn of Columbia, thereby avoiding a tie with Leslie of Penn. Sands finished with nine victories out of eleven bouts, while Leslie had eight victories and three defeats.

Yale retained its championship in the sabre division and also contributed the individual winner. Nussbaum won the title with nine victories out of ten bouts, with Cetrullo of Dartmouth second and Cohn of Columbia third. Yale defeated Army last night in the final match in the sabre division and finished with four victories and one tie.
Columbia was second with three victories, one defeat and one tie.

The Army, with a team in each division, won the three weapon championship with 12 points. Yale with two teams entered, was second with 10 points and Columbia third with 8 points.
