Lions Take Foil, Tie for First in the Saber for 76 Points -Navy Next With 67

By MICHAEL STRAUSS Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WEST POINT, N. Y., March 17 —An impressive finish, during which it captured the foil honors and tied with Pennsylvania and Yale in the saber, enabled Columbia to capture the three-weapon crown as the fifty-fourth annual intercollegiate fencing championships closed tonight.

Competing in the spacious gymnasium of the United States Military Academy, the Light Blue and White scored 76 points to gain the handsome alumni three-weapon trophy last won by the Lions in 1934. In the runner-up berth was Navy with 67 points, followed by Yale with 66 and the Army with 61. The outcome of the long two-day event came in the nature of a surprise, since most observers had looked upon Navy as the likely winner, with the Morningside Heighters conceded only, an outside chance. Navy lived up to pretournament speculation with fine performance in épée and foil, but it sagged in the saber, tallying 16 points in this phase. Wins Old Trophy In winning, Columbia, which earlier in the day had won the famous "Little Iron Man," considered the oldest intercollegiate trophy, as a result of its foil triumph, registered a sparkling allaround exhibition. The scored 22 points with the épée yesterday, 27 with the foil and 27 with the saber. Leading the Lions was Bob Neilsen, N. C. A. A. champion, who accounted for 11 foil triumphs in 12 bouts. The Columbia star just fell short of a perfect slate when he was beaten by Harold Goldsmith of City College in a sudden death bout after a three-all tie in regular competition. Neilsen won this one he would have been responsible for the only unblemished record of the entire tournament. Alfred Rubin also showed to ex-

Columbia, producing 10 decisions in 12 bouts in the second pool. In saber John Krajcir was the big gun with ten triumphs. He was well supported in this weapon by Bob Schafer, who registered 9 decisions in the rugged pool No. 1 competition. Velarde Has Combination A proud observer of the proceedings was Joe Velarde, New York

University star of a decade ago, who undertook the coaching reins at Columbia last year after a three-year stint as the army mentor. As coach of the West Point squad that tied Rutgers for the N. C. A. A. three-weapon title two years ago, Velarde appears to have the combination that produces winning teams. N. Y. U., which made a strong showing in 1950 when it won the three-weapon title and shared the epee and foil crowns with Navy, had a dismal time of it. Credited with only 15 points in the epee yesterday, the Violets were unable to pick up any ground and finally finished sixth with 56 points. The only weapon with which the University Heighters were able to create a stir was in the foil when they produced 23 points to finish four markers behind Columbia. Pace-setter for the Bronxites in this event was Norman Lerner, cocaptain of the team, who shared high scoring honors with Neilsen as he also came up with eleven
